DEMOCRACY IS A BURDEN

What the New Tax Law of Democratic Origin Has Done for the Farmers.

Farmers of Pike Township Who Have Suffered by Taxation and Discrimination-Their Holdings the Same as La t Year.

The Journal to-day completes the Pike township list of all tax-payers who owned the same land in 1890 and 1891. All names are given, whether the taxes have been increased or decreased. The list is taken directly from the tax duplicates in the connty auditor's office. Corporations are omitted. Names have not been taken where improvements have been made or removed during the year, or where the sale or purchase of land has altered the holding of the tax-payer in any respect. Readers are requested to compare their tax receipts with the list and report any inaccuracies for

An examination of the list will show that the small land-owners got the most of the increase, their percentage of increase being much heavier than that of the larger land-owners.

It is hardly necessary to say that the John R. Wilson whose taxes are increased from $78.62 to $92.48 is not the efficient successor of John E. Sullivan as clerk of the Circuit Court and chairman of the Democratic county committee; but is a substantial Republican farmer, whose taxes, it was thought, could be raised with impunity. Oliver Reveal has ceased to figure in county politics since he ceased to be county commissioner and became a hangeron in the clerk's office, and the bosses did not think his feelings worth considering, and raised his taxes about $23. If he dosen't like it he cannot afford to give up his little

THE BRITISH CAN'T KEEP STILL They "Give Themselves Away" Even When Requiring Prudence and Caution.

Now that our home elections are over, the great conflict which is proceeding in the United States of America naturally begins to attract a little more attention. The fight for the White House this next fall is going to be on a stupendous scale, and its results may be pregnant with the most startling consegences, not alone for the citizens of the great republic, but for the whole of the civilized and trading world. It is a battle which those at home, if they wish to show their wisdom and discretion, would do well to watch in a spirit of reticence and without diplay of feeling or partisanship. British apostles of free trade should assume an indifference, if they have it not. On such an occasion, it is gospel truth that if speech be silvern, silence is golden. America is just now divided politically into two great camps, formed of Republicans on the one hand and Democrats on the other. General Harrison, the present occupant of the White House, has been chosen to again do battle for the Republicans, who are best known over here as steeped to the lips in protection and as the aiders and supporters of the McKinley tariff, which was boomed the declaration that to raise workmen's wages throughout the States, and augurate an era of unheard-of peace and prosperity. The Democrats of the United States have chosen as their leader Mr. Grover Cleveland, whose tenure of office as President, which closed four years ago, they recall as justifying his re-election. It is perhaps too much to say that Mr. Cleveland and his party go to the poll as the avowed champions of free trade, but they are certainly in favor of tariff reform, and can point to the terrible labor troubles in the country, due to the impending great reductions in wages, as clear evidence of the fact that, whatdone in pouring increased wealth into the pockets of plutocrats and monopolisi, lika Mr. Carnegie, it has signally failed to ameliorate the condition of the masses, or to better the earnings of the artisan and mechanic. Great issues have, therefore, to be decided within the next few months, but they have to be decided by the Americans themselves and for their own good and proper reasons. The discussion of the question at issue from the English point of view has only one effect in the States, and that injurious and paralyzing to those who are fighting the battle of free trade. Every public expression of opinion in this country hostile to the McKinley tariff, from a British point of view, is telegraphed across the Atlantic, and eagerly reproduced in the Republican papers throughout the country. As we said before, the apostles of free-trade, if they wish to further the principles they are so proud of, should rigidly hold their tongues during the present presidential campaign. Their utterances do incalculable harm to the Democratic cause, and if Mr. Cleveladd is, after all defeated it will be largely owing to the too loudly and indiscreetly expressed sympathy proceeding from these shores.

He Reads Harrison's Speeches.

New York Mail and Express. As an instance of how Democrats have had to chauge their minds about the opinions they had formed of the Bresident's ability. I will relate a circumstance that happened in this city. This was told to me by an intimate friend of one of the parties. "There are two big lawyers, partners, in this city, both of whom are Democrats. One is a well-known orator and a dyed-inthe-wool Democrat. When President Harrison made his tour this Democrat was so biased he refused to read the President's speeches. He would look at the headlines and say that he supposed the speeches were commonplace, and toss the paper aside, One day his partner said he had read one of the President's speeches and it was first rate. The ora-tor partner pooh-poohed the idea. In a spirit of burlesque he consented to stand in the middle of the office room and read the latest speech made by the President, He began to read in burlesque, but he soon changed and read with all the rhetorical ability he possessed. When he finished he splendid speech. I would not be ashamed to be the author of it; in fact, I would be proud to claim it as my own. "From that time the Democratic ora-tor has never missed reading a speech by the President. Dencon White's Experience,

New York Letter. When Deacon White failed a year ago his creditors had such confidence in him that they accepted his promise to pay them in full and released him from all obligation, taking not a scrap of paper as evidence of the obligation. That was something almost unprecedented in Wall street, and it showed that the eperators there, although they recognized the Deacon as one of the shrewdest of all of them, still knew that when he gave his word he would keep it.

Deacon White learned, as "Jim" Keene did some years ago, that it is foolish to try to get a corner on those things which depend upon the sun, and the rains, and the soil, and the farmers of the West for their production. It takes more capital than Deacon White or any other man or set of man have to corner the wheat crop. On Saturday Deacon White paid out nearly $500,000 for this experience. He has a few more creditors to pay, and then he will be foot-free and in the market with a credit as great as any man who operates there. He has made this fortune within nine months through his skillful manipulation of some of the industrial stocks, and he is a firm peliever in the future of all of the industrials, as they are called. He is now able to return to his nightly contemplation of the heavens through the telescope which he has fitted up upon the roof of his man-sion in Brooklyn.

May Even Be Troubled to Hold the South. If Congress had remained in session another fortnight the Democrats wouldn't have carried a Northern State in Novem-Mrs. W. R. Barbour has returned from a ber. As it is, they have a fighting chance

A New Process

The Lemon, the Orange, the Vanilla, contains more or less of a delicate flavoring substance, and the separation of this substance in a manner so as to retain all its freshness, sweetness and naturalness, requires the greatest experience and care.

Dr. Price's Delicious Flavoring

Extracts are prepared by a new process that gives to them the natural flavoring qualities, and are so concentrated that it requires but a small quantity to impart to a cake, pudding or cream, the delicate flavor of the fresh fruit. The leading chemists endorse their purity. The United States Conernment uses them.
